Agronomist joins Viterra's regional team

Viterra is now able to offer growers in the Mallee and Riverland specialist agronomy advice with the recent appointment of experienced agronomist Orville Hildebrand to its regional team.

Since completing a Bachelor of Agricultural Science at the University of Adelaide, Orville has developed extensive hands-on agronomic experience with high-profile agribusinesses throughout eastern South Australia.

Orville has specific experience in planning for the application of crop protection products and crop nutrition to broad-acre farming.

As an agronomist at Viterra, Orville will work one-on-one with growers, tailoring individual agronomic solutions to suit their requirements.

He will work closely with Customer Relationship Managers Adam Brinkmann and Mark Kroehn, to assist grower customers with their grain, fertiliser, crop protection products and seed requirements.

Bernard Seal, Viterra's Eastern Regional Sales Manager, said Orville's appointment will further strengthen the team and the services the company can offer growers in the Mallee and Riverland regions.

"The addition of a dedicated agronomist throughout this key cropping region is a big benefit," Mr Seal said.

"Having spent the past 15 years working in the region, Orville's extensive knowledge and experience will add value to growers cropping enterprises."
